Downtown project wraps up

By WENDY HANSCOM

Scott Construction, Inc. is wrapping up its work on downtown Bethel's sewer system. Town Manager Madeleine Henley said construction and paving crews should be out of town by mid-October.

All the sewer pipes have been laid for this phase of the Downtown Revitalization Project. Pike Industry, a project subcontractor, should finish paving sidewalks on Main street this week, Henley said.

Sub-grading and sub-coat paving will also be done on Mason, Spring, High and Elm streets before SCI leaves town. Paving done this fall is sub-coat paving. The top-coat should be applied next year.

SCI crews still have some clean-up work to do. The company will flush construction debris from new pipelines and make sure all fire hydrants are operational. There are also a few remaining manholes that need to be cut out, and crews will make sure that manhole covers and storm drain grates are level with the road surface.

Henley said SCI should also be checking to make sure private properties, which were disrupted during the digging, are left in good order. After SCI leaves for the winter, Henley will compile a list of any citizen complaints for the company to respond for in the spring.

There are only a few private home owners who need to be hooked into the new system. "People have been very good about getting hooked in when they had to be," Henley said. "This was the thing we worried the most about, but it wasn't nearly as bad as I expected it to be. I know it's been very frustrating for people and they've been awfully good sports. It's for the town's good that they've suffered through this all summer long."

On Oct. 2, the town's engineer and officials, contractors and representatives from the Farmer's Home Administration will conduct a walk-through of the entire project, Henley said. The purpose of the walk-through is to complete a "punch list" of any problems discovered.

Henley added that the town will hold back some of the money owed to SCI until spring. She said that way the work done will have been thru a freeze/thaw cycle. Town officials will then hold a close-out interview with SCI before the town accepts the company's work as final. At that time SCI will be notified of any problems that occurred over the winter and of any

Greenwood planners want new application on Indian Pond camp

The Greenwood Planning Board has asked one of its own members, Jim Cyr, to submit an after-the-fact application for work he has already completed for a Boston couple at their camp on Indian Pond.

Pat and Henry Steward had previously received board approval to tear down and rebuild their 20-by-30 foot camp at the southeast end of the pond.

Cyr, a contractor, was one of the members who signed the original application. He told the board Monday

DEP begins monitoring Greenwood scrap tire site for license compliance

By MARK SHANAHAN

After inspecting Peter Gordon's tire storage facility on the Rabbit Road for the first time since the site was licensed Aug. 23, Department of Environmental Protection representative Brent McCarthy said last week he remained "guardedly optimistic" that Gordon will be able to satisfy the terms of the license.

McCarthy, who was accompanied during Wednesday's inspection by Greenwood planning board members Wayne Hakala and Stacy Benjamin, said "there is a lot of work to be done" before Gordon is in "a compliance situation."

In particular, McCarthy, who is an enforcement officer with the DEP's division of Solid Waste Facilities

Management, said the boundaries for each of the three 10,000 square foot storage cells were inadequately marked.

According to Benjamin, one of the cells which rose "roughly to a height of 35 feet" had spilled over onto a second cell.

In addition to restricting the height

TIRE MOUNTAIN—DEP Representative Brent McCarthy, left, Greenwood Planning Board Chairman Wayne Hakala, Gordon's Tire owner Peter Gordon and employee Jody Gaudreau discuss the logistics of reducing Gordon's highest tire pile to 20 feet. McCarthy inspected the Greenwood tire storage facility last Wednesday along with Greenwood planning board members Staci Benjamin and Hakala. Benjamin estimated the above tire pile at roughly 35 feet high. Gordon is supposed to meet a 20 foot pile height requirement. At Wednesday's inspection, Gordon proposed digging a 20 foot trench, filling it with tires and then placing an additional 20 feet of tires above ground level. After the tour, McCarthy said the DEP is considering the proposal.

Rebel field hockey squad looks to another strong year

By WENDY HANSCOM

Last season for the second consecutive year the Telstar High School field hockey team captured the Western Maine Class C Championship, but lost the state championship by one goal.

This season co-coaches Gail Wight and Sally Hannon predict that the girls will be back in the thick of championship play, but "We don't take it for granted," Wight said, "that we'll be in the play-offs. Our goal is to have a good season and do well in each game."

The Rebels posted a 14-2-2 record last year and walked away with both the Western Maine Class C and the Mountain Valley Conference titles.

The team has lost four graduating senior starters and two substitutes, but at least ten returning lettermen will take the field this year.

Senior tri-captains halfback Jen Bailey, forward Shilo Hutchins and forward Amy Hannon will be leading the Rebel pack.

Other returning lettermen include senior forward Crystal Chase, sophomore halfback Cheryl Myers, junior halfback Suzanne Richardson, junior fullback Noelle Gauthier, senior fullbacks Bridget Remington and Robin Michaud and junior goalie Danielle Bernier.

The team's biggest weakness may be lack of depth, Wight said. Three senior subs, Dawn Davis, Heather Roberts and Michelle Conkright will give the starting line up some relief. Promising newcomers, sophomores Sarah Coolidge, Kelsey Cross, Melissa Howe, Misty Hutchins and junior Faye Luxton will also serve as substitutes.

"We have a lot of freshmen and sophomores to choose from. It depends on how fast they come along this fall

Letters to the editor

THE FARMER'S MARKET BELONGS ON THE COMMON

To the Editor:

For two years in a row the Bethel Farmer's Market has asked the Bethel selectmen to allow us to hold the market on the Town Common, and both times we have been denied, on the grounds that it would set a precedent and they would have to let anyone who wanted to hold a yard sale or whatever on the Common to do so.

We disagree with this argument, because the market is agriculturally related, which is the original intended use for Town Commons.

For some reason, the selectmen think it is okay to have Molluscett Day, Christmas tree lightings, bike swaps, and an art festival on the Common, but not the Farmer's Market.

We feel a Farmer's Market is an appropriate use of the Common, both because of the agricultural basis and because it is an asset to the community, allowing both residents and visitors a chance to buy fresh local Maine grown produce.

Other towns in Maine have gone out of their way to encourage and support their Farmer's Markets. For example, Waterville, not only allowed the Farmer's Market to use the common, but supplied electricity, water, bathrooms and they built booths for them. Portland Farmer's Market is also held on the common in Portland.

Judging from comments made by our customers and others in town we have a lot of support. For these reasons we will be going before the selectmen once again this fall and asking them if we can use the Common on Saturday mornings starting with our 1992 season. This time we would like to present the selectmen with a petition signed by as many people as possible to show them how much support we have in the community.

Please, if you agree with us, stop by at the market any Saturday morning (thru September) and sign our petition, or contact any market member.

TRAPPING DEFENDED

To the Editor:

Trapping takes on many forms that the average person never thinks of. The largest sale of traps in the United States consists of mouse and gopher traps. Just about everyone at one time or another can relate to using these two forms of traps.

Trapping also consists of removing many nuisance animals such as the skunk that takes up residence under the porch, the porcupine that invades the camp, the beaver that builds a dam in a very unwelcome spot. When this situation occurs it's not the plummer or electrician that gets the call, but the trapper.

Trapping and hunting have been under attack for a long time. What many people never look at is the result if these animals are not harvested in an orderly manner.

Wild animals such as coyotes, fox, muskrat, etc. haven't learned the method of birth control as yet. If you think trapping and hunting are cruel then you ought to see the gruesome picture of overpopulation. Starvation, mange, rabies are indeed a very slow and tortuous death.

Fur, like timber, is a renewable resource. A muskrat will in one year time double its population. If 50 percent of it is harvested, the species will remain healthy and strong.

What many animal rights activists don't understand is a true sportsman wants to see animals in good health also.

If you destroy this muskrat's house then you kill him. By this I mean natural habitat should be left alone from man's destruction or so-called progress. Man is the only animal that has the power to destroy himself and his own habitat.

A mother fox teaches her young to hunt. A mother coyote does the same thing. An adult raccoon teaches her young the art of frogging. All very majestic sights. Many people will never get close enough to the earth to understand an adult human teaching their young to trap, fish, or hunt is just as majestic and natural as the mother fox.

In today's society if parents took more time sharing these natural, down-to-earth experiences with their kids, then drugs and other such social afflictions wouldn't be the problem they are.

The New England Trappers Weekend is indeed a family affair. We have momma trappers, poppa trappers and baby trappers, along with doctors, lawyers, teachers, sheriffs, etc. all in attendance.

For someone to feel saddened that families and friends from all over the country can get together and have fun speaks for itself.

My two daughters have both trapped and will continue to have that choice for many years to come.

I will not fall into the dilemma of writing a letter to the editor every week, as I value my time too much. You will find me in the woods, on the ponds, doing what the Bible says, giving man dominion over the animals. Sampson caught 300 fox and he didn't do it with his bare hands.

FROM THE

Bethel Town Office

I would like to share some thoughts which surfaced after reading an excerpt of an article on the Not-in-My-Back-Yard (NIMBY) Syndrome by Ed Laverty of the Department of Public Administration at the University of Maine.

Mr. Laverty feels that "The real environmental management challenge is not in developing the science, the alternatives or new regulatory processes. It is doing all of that within the democratic process. To do it with the consent of the governed."

Mr. Laverty then goes on to describe a method by which the State of Maine may someday come to grips with its waste disposal needs.

I won't carry on in that vein here, but this article has influenced my thinking about the democratic process here in Bethel, especially as it relates to land-use regulations. It seems that where the regulation of the private use of privately owned (and in some cases, publicly owned) land is concerned, the governed feel they have not consented.

Bethel residents are not the only property owners feeling locked out of the process. A couple I know in Scarborough have just received a building permit to add to their home on the marsh. It was quite a battle getting it, they assured me, and didn't hear my sarcasm when I commented that I imagined the building inspector had been looking forward to that fight all week.

It turns out that because the regulations will be changing, this work would not be allowable after Jan. 1, 1992. "The frightening thing to me," this property owner said, "is they can just make these rules and we don't even know about it until it's over."

The sad truth is, the Scarborough ordinance, like all ordinances in every town, was made public through a series of notices and public hearings.

The fact that people don't pay attention to the laws their own government is proposing to impose upon them is indicative of the apathy we find in all aspects of voter activity. We do not find the time to read the notices, much less attend the hearings or serve on the committees because we are so tied up with fighting today's fire. But when today's fire is a collision with land use regulations adopted without our participation, then the view changes.

I think Bethel is blessed with citizens who take the time and become informed and involved. I was happy to see the debate at town meeting over changes in town ordinances, and hope the discussions about the quality of the local laws will last our lifetimes. I agree with Mr. Laverty—securing the consent of the governed is the most challenging assignment.

W'stock mil rate down

Woodstock property owners receiving tax bills this week should be presently surprised by the drop in the town's mill rate.

Last year's mill rate was 18.9. Selectmen set this year's rate at 17.9 ($17.80 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.)

The main reason tax bill are going down is because the state has dropped the former Stowell Mill evaluation from its assessment records, said Town Manager Vern Maxfield. Consequently, the town's valuation dropped and with it the school tax bill.

In fact, Woodstock was the only SAD #44 member town whose school assessment went down. The town was assessed $414,908 for FY '90 and $389,969 for FY '91—about a 6 percent savings.

Maxfield said unless taxpayers have added value to their properties, their tax bills should go down, because the town did not reassess properties this year.

He added that during this spring's budget process selectmen trimmed the budget as much as possible. "We didn't raise as much money at town meeting time," he said. "In round figures, last year we raised about $744,000 and this year we raised about $716,000."

Selectmen held the line by planning no major new projects for this year and decreasing roads accounts by $10,000.

So far this year the budget is holding. "We're right on target for the first eight months. We haven't had any cost overruns yet. The only place we may have problem is in the summer roads account, because we spent $5,000

Jim Merrill is new full-time Bethel officer

James Merrill of West Bethel has been hired as Bethel's new full-time police officer.

Merrill rounds out the department to three full-time officers.

He previously worked as a reserve officer for the past three months. He replaces Michael Fortin who resigned last month.

Merrill is a 1991 graduate of the Southern Maine Technical College in South Portland. He has an associates degree in law enforcement. He is scheduled to enter the Maine Criminal Justice Academy in March.

Bethel Town Manager Madeleine Henley said she would have preferred hiring someone who had already completed the training. "We would have liked to hire someone who has already been through the academy, but we do feel we hired the best qualified person," she said. The town will foot the bill for Merrill's tuition, salary, and replacement officer during the 12 week training period.

Merrill, a 1989 graduate of Telstar High School, is the son of Emerson and Loretta Merrill of West Bethel. He has been employed by Murch Concrete of Waterville this summer. He and his wife Mary (Taylor) live in West Bethel.

NEW BETHEL POLICE OFFICER—Selectmen have hired James Merrill of West Bethel as Bethel's new full-time police officer. Merrill is a 1991 graduate of Southern Maine Technical College and holds an associate's degree in law enforcement. He will be entering the Maine Criminal Justice Academy in March.

THIS WEEK AT THE

Moses Mason House

More than 80 members and friends gathered at the Dr. Moses Mason House Thursday evening for the Bethel Historical Society's 26th annual meeting.

Following a potluck supper coordinated by the Special Projects Committee headed by Persis Post, president Jane Hosterman read a list of members who had died since our last annual meeting and called for a moment of silence: Guy Parker, Sr., Laurence Bartlett, Marion Hall, Consuelo Alger, Charles Morgan Mason, Alonzo F. Chapman, Harry Parsons, Grace F. Buck, C. Custer Quimby, Ruth Verville, Mary Chadbourn, and Agnes H. Haines.

The president reported that the Society had gained 61 new members since the last annual meeting, bringing membership to over 900 for the first time in the Society's history. These members live in 34 states, four Canadian provinces, the United Kingdom and Austria. President Hosterman welcomed the United Kingdom member Cynthia Hastings Cox, who arrived in time to attend the annual meeting.

The president announced that the Society had received a large number of additions to its collection, including two dresses worn by Agnes Straw Mason, wife of Dr. Moses Mason. She thanked all members and volunteers who made this year such a success, including the Society's annual special events: Homecoming Day, Heritage Day, Christmas with the Masons, Faye Taylor Memorial Art Show, Dr. Moses Mason birthday party and (despite the rain again this year), Sudbury Canada Days.

She reviewed some of the special highlights of the year: a number of gatherings at the Dr. Moses Mason House including the McLean, Kimball, and Mason families, the Oxford County League of Historical Societies, and the Maine Humanities Council; the defeat of the formidable duo of Cathy Newell and Merton Brown in the annual "So You Think You Know Bethel" contest; the awarding of the Dr. Moses Mason Award to Matt O'Meara for his essay in local history; the outstanding performance by the fifth grade in presenting a pageant on Bethel history to the Society's May meeting; the loss of the giant oak planted in Dr. Mason's day.

The big project of the year, according to the president, has been the preparation of the illustrated history of Bethel by Society Curator of Collections Randall Bennett. This is expected to be out later in the year and order blanks will be mailed to all on the mailing list later in the month. President Hosterman then presented four honorary memberships voted by the Board of Trustees, the Society's highest membership honor for those over 75 and possessing an outstanding record of service to the organization. Honored were Frederick McMillin, also a life member, who has assisted the Society in countless ways, doing minor repairs, keeping an eye on the Dr. Moses Mason House in the absence of the regular staff; Norris Brown, also a life member, for cooking the beans at Sudbury Canada days for the past 12 years, serving on the Nominating Committee, helping wife, Barb, with her various volunteer projects, and being a generous donor of artifacts to the Society including the summer house in the back yard; Donald B. Eddy, also a life member, served as a trustee, as longtime head of the Building Committee and as a guide in the museum and generous donor to the Endowment Fund; Agnes Haines, charter and life member, who unfortunately died before this presentation, longtime researcher and indexer, craft demonstrator, longtime Museum Committee member, generous donor to the Endowment Fund and museum guide for many years.

A report from the Nominating Committee was heard read by Frank Vogt, chairman. Serving on the committee with him were retiring trustee Mary C. Keniston and Arlene Lowell, who with Vogt represented the general membership. Submitted for consideration were: president, Jane Hosterman; vice-president, Charles Raymond; secretary and clerk of the trustees, Walter Hatch; treasurer, Rebecca P. Kendall; trustee for three years, Margaret Joy Tibbetts. This slate was approved without dissent. President Hosterman announced that the next meeting would be held on October 3 and feature the annual "What's It?" and Collectibles Night. It will also include a history of Bethel's Philbrook Street by Geraldine S. Howe. The "Artifact of the Month" was announced by Society Curator of Collections Randall H. Bennett as a set of proposed plans proposed for additions at the Bethel Inn which were never adopted. These were by the architectural firm of Coolidge and Carlson of Boston and were donated by an anonymous donor.

Following these announcements, the president introduced retiring trustee Mary C. Keniston, who presented the 1991 Marjorie MacArthur Noll Volunteer Service Award to Helen Morton, an honorary member, who chaired the Program Committee for several years, served on the Endowment Campaign and Art committees, was a trustee of the Society from 1980-83 and has been a faithful museum guide every Sunday since 1975 during the museum season. For many years, she has organized Socie-of all three cells to twenty feet, the Gordons' license also calls for the corners of the three cells to be clearly marked with permanent metal posts within 30 days of receiving the license.

McCarthy, who said he planned to send Gordon a letter this week outlining the existing problems at the Rabbit Road site, did indicate he was pleased with Gordon's efforts so far to comply with the consent agreement.

That agreement, which was signed on June 11, obligates Gordon to remove a total of 24,000 tires from two tire piles in Albany by Nov. 1.

McCarthy said that while the requisite number of tires have been moved from Gordon's Tire Barn in Albany, none of the 30,000 tires at the other Albany site, the Leonard Kimball property, have been moved. McCarthy added that the Gordons have been keeping "decent" track of receipts and manifests for transport of the tires to licensed solid waste facilities.

Although there is no declared inspection schedule, McCarthy said he assumed he would be back in the area around the Nov. 1 deadline period.

Jeri Greenwell attends national convention of the American Legion

Jeri Greenwell of Bethel attended the American Legion Auxiliary's 71st Annual Convention in Phoenix, Arizona, on August 31-September 5. She was one of 2,500 delegates, alternates and distinguished guests meeting last week in Civic Center Plaza, Greenwell, the National Public Relations Chairman of the world's largest women's service organization, has held offices at the unit, district and department levels and served on most major national committees.

The week's events included a three-hour "Freedom Fest Celebrating the American Spirit—1914-1991" on Sunday, Sept. 1, to commemorate the 50-year anniversary of World War II and featured celebrity guest Bob Hope; a color guard, drill team and band competitions; and other patriotic events.

On Tuesday, Sept. 3, there was an awards luncheon honoring Erna Bombeck, the recipient of the Auxiliary's 1991 Woman of the Year award and the Unit Members of the Year from each state. Following this luncheon, the five national winners of the Auxiliary's prestigious Heart of America media competition presented their work and received their awards.

Monday's opening session featured greetings by the governor of Arizona, Fife Symington; mayor of Phoenix, Paul Johnson; American Legion national commander, Robert S. Turner; the Auxiliary's national honorary junior president, Kristen Bauer; and recently elected 1991 Girls Nation president, Linell Bartholic. Keynote speaker, David Okerlund, teacher, commentator and author of "The Big Red Machine," discussed the role of volunteerism for those who serve and those who are served. On Wednesday, Chris Christanson offered a presentation on successful leadership and the importance of attitudes in personal and professional lives.

Wednesday evening the National President Ruby Paul hosted the Auxiliary's traditional and elegant VIP Reception and States Dinner in the Ballroom in the Phoenix Civic Plaza, where Guy Lombardo's Royal Canadians, with Al Pierson conducting, provided an evening of big band music.

The week's business included reports on all Auxiliary programs and several groundbreaking resolutions and recommendations regarding the future of the national volunteer service organization. The meeting adjourned with the installation of national officers on Thursday, Sept. 5.

The million-member American Legion Auxiliary was founded in 1919, to support the work of the American Legion and to serve the nation's veterans. With national headquarters in Indianapolis, the organization sponsors 26 major programs, which focus on veterans' issues, the welfare and education of children and youth and community service. Last year alone, Auxiliary volunteers contributed a total of $18 million and 7.9 million hours of service to these concerns.

Andover to reconstruct Farmer's Hill Road

By BARBARA ADAMS

The Andover Board of Selectmen voted last week to go on with the reconstruction of Farmer's Hill Road, despite the protest of resident Ralph Manning, and to have the highway department spread calcium on the South Arm Road to ease a dust problem brought to their attention last week by Debby Robie.

Manning, Sid Pew, and Steve Fyberg, an interested party, were in attendance. Pew is for the reconstruction, and Manning against. Manning presented a letter with the signatures of seven camp owners on the road protesting the reconstruction.

He asked the board, "Do you really want to spend $21,000 and do all this work and nobody wants it? It will be 32 feet (width) of devastation. At one time the town used to grade it and take the bushes out. If they just grade it eight feet from the center it would work just as well if not better."

Selectmen Fred Emerson, Wayne Delano and Brian Mills told Manning that in their survey of the condition of town roads "Farmer's Hill was the worst," and town equipment was unable to plow it in the winter.

"I don't know any road in worse shape," said Emerson. Pew explained to the board that the road was closed to winter maintenance in the 1970s, and a petition was circulated in the 80s for the town to do winter maintenance "until equipment was endangered." Mills has been investigating the history of the maintenance of the road, and is concerned about the town's liability in case of a fire.

"I am happy to have it done," Pew said. "I hope a fire truck never has to go down there. If I want to go out in the mud season, I can't get out."

Delano explained that "a foot of gravel will make the road better. If I go down the road and just hack the bushes it would be the same width (32 feet). We are trying to keep the South Arm Road until the other projects were underway and I still feel the same way."

Delano said, "I thought we decided at last week's meeting we were going to take care of the dust problem. I assumed we were going to spread the calcium."

Emerson said he was under the impression that a decision on the calcium was not to be made until a cost was estimated. After much discussion, the Board voted unanimously to spread calcium in front of the Robie camp, and 100 feet in each direction. If this is not satisfactory, Robie was told to notify the Board and more would be spread prior to the next meeting.

Greenwood selectmen protest new permit fee

Greenwood selectmen expressed their displeasure over the state's new concealed weapon fee at last week's selectmen's meeting.

The fee for a concealed weapons permit has risen from $10 to $60. The increase was approved by the legislature in July.

Municipalities get $15 of the fee and the state collects $45.

Selectman Marie Bartlett said, "There's nothing we can do about it, but we were taken back a bit by it. Forty-five dollars is going to the state and we're doing the work, and I think it could encourage people to carry their handguns and not come in for a permit. It's just another fee hike the state is putting onto the individual."

Before the new law, the town charged $10 for the original permit and $8 for its renewal. Now the $60 fee is collectible for the original and all renewals.

Correction: The story regarding Tri-Town Rescue in the Aug. 21 edition contained an error.

It was reported that PACE Ambulance Service of Norway charges $290 for ambulance runs. According to Tri-Town Rescue member Ken Bacon, PACE charges a base rate of $190 for out-of-town calls.

Young dancers: En pointe and beyond

By SUSAN CLEMENT FARRAR

The third in a series of three articles by Susan Clement Farrar, director of the Children's Dance Theater of Bethel.

Dance lessons should make happy memories. To achieve this successfully a teacher must be experienced knowing when to press for perfection and when to hold back. Each form of dance gives the student something unique: poise, control and balance with ballet; form, style and body movement with jazz; rhythm and precision with tap, flexibility and muscle firmness with acrobatics.

By age ten, a student who has had Combination Classes should know what kind he or she likes best because now each class is focused on one type only.

Going En Pointe is very exciting, but many factors enter into allowing this and only the teacher should decide when a student is ready to go on toe. Before age ten, the bones of the toes are not completely formed—like the tip of the nose, it is still cartilage and great damage could be done to feet, legs and back. It may be wiser to wait until a student is eleven or twelve to be sure the body is strong and the basic ballet steps are properly understood and executed.

The first year en pointe is the hardest to get through. It takes blood, sweat and blisters but with a sincere love of the art, hard work and determination, the second season is much easier. This is not said to discourage a student from going en pointe but rather for her to face reality and not tackle it unless she is truly dedicated to it. It is not for everyone. The work and discipline en pointe work takes, pays off in a lifetime of appreciation for the arts.

Tap class for 10 year olds is really fun. Jazz moves are introduced and with the ballet background learned in the Combination Classes students are ready to "strut their stuff" with a flair, synchronizing the body, feet and arms. Tap technique at the barre limbers up the feet and ankles. A keen musical ear is necessary so that syncopated rhythms can be done in the center and as we all know, "Tap is Back".

Beginner and Intermediate Acrobatic classes for ages eight through teens develops flexibility, strength and coordination. It is something boys as well as girls enjoy and the few basic jazz steps needed to tie the "tricks" together are not too difficult. In this day and age of "couch potatoes" it is a body builder par excellence.

There are many kinds of jazz—lyrical, musical comedy, rock and roll, country, jumpin', Charleston and funky. All young people love jazz and it is not necessary that they have previous lessons before going into a jazz class, although it goes without saying most students who have had ballet, perform and look better. Jazz terms are the same as ballet terms only done in a different manner so a ballet background serves them well.

Funky Jazz is the least difficult but will never get a student on Broadway or even in to a college jazz class. It is simply basic steps that you see done by the rock groups—fun for students who are just looking for fun, but it will not take you anywhere in the dance world. If a student hopes to make a career of dance, it is absolutely necessary that he or she study all types of dance.

While Classical Ballet never changes, Jazz and Tap take on a new look every season. The footwork may remain the same, but the body and arms move in a different fashion. That is why I attend classes every month throughout the winter season. Our Dance Clubs bring the best in the country to us.

Students over aged 10, who take more than one lesson a week can come with me to the student classes and absorb the "Big Scene," realizing that it's a great world out there with lots of exciting things to do.

I am very fortunate to have as my assistants two very talented young women who took lessons from me for many years and have been in training the last two years, Sheri Angevine Cordova and Bonny Mills Marshall. I also have a very capable young girl demonstrating in the Acrobatic Classes, Amanda Sysko—and this year acting as Student Demonstrator for the Combination Classes will be Naomi Clement Fox.

FIELD HOCKEY SEASON UNDERWAY—Telstar High School's Shilo Hutchins charges downfield during the Rebels' field hockey scrimmage against Messalonskee High School last Thursday. with their skills if they'll see varsity time," Wight said. "Our biggest weakness will be the possibility of not having enough subs to compete with a team who does—keeping our team fresh. We're hopeful that freshmen and sophomores will provide us with some depth."

Wight said the season has barely begun and not all positions have been firmly established. The coaches will continue to focus some of their training efforts on finding younger players who can give the starters a breather.

But catching their breath won't be easy for the Rebels this year. Wight said the Mountain Valley Conference has some very tough competitors and the competition will be looking to knock off the Western Maine Champion Rebels.

"Everyone's going to be out to beat us," Wight said, "but the girls are excited about the season. When you're on top you've got to keep yourself pumped up, the competition's already going to be up. It's good for the team to be in a tough league, it makes everyone a better player and it helps prepare the team for post-season play."

Wight said she's hoping the team sees some post-season action, but the coaches don't make that a team goal. "We take our season one day at a time and the play-offs one game at a time. We try not to look too far ahead and we concentrate on now," she said.

The Rebels open their season against Jay today (Wednesday), 3:30 p.m. at home. The girls will travel to Leavitt Friday for a 3:30 p.m. game.

CPS/EBS News

Dear parents:

Another exciting school year is already underway here at Crescent Park. Although we have only been in session for a little more than a week, many activities are already taking place.

Our fifth-grade returned from Papoose Pond yesterday from a two-day leadership training activity conducted by some of our staff members. Mrs. Acker, Miss Newcomb, Ms. Wheeler, Ms. Lewis, Ms. Opie, Mrs. Garrison and I coordinated the activities over the two-day period.

Students worked independently and in groups in an effort to better understand the skills they possess. Another important focus of the activity was the ability to work together. Steve Wight and Marie Keene joined us to explain the importance of cooperation in working together as a team and supervised the group in a canoe activity that involved all of the children.

It is our intention that the fifth-graders will apply the skills throughout the year as they emerge as the positive school leaders that I know they will be.

Grandparents Day will be celebrated at Crescent Park on Friday, Sept. 13. Please extend our invitation to all grandparents or "grandparents for a day" to join us between 9-11 a.m. Refreshments will be provided.

Our Parent Teacher Organization will be holding its first meeting on Tuesday: Hotdog in a roll, baked beans, fruit, milk.

Wednesday: Chicken patty on bun with lettuce and tomato, fruit, milk.

Thursday: Ravioli, green beans, bread and butter, fruit, milk.

Friday: Viking fried chicken, mashed potato, peas, bread and butter, trail mix, milk.

Tuesday, Sept. 17, at 6:30 p.m. The topic for the meeting will be the CPS Volunteer Program. This year's meetings will consist of special presentations focusing on specific programs offered in the district, a business section of the meeting and social time with refreshments being provided. Day care will be available. All meetings will conclude by 8 p.m. Your participation in this newly-formed organization would be greatly appreciated. Please plan to come, even if you can only stay for a part of the meeting.

In closing, I would urge each of you to become actively involved in your child's classroom this year. With an enrollment of 325 students, we are the largest school in the district this year. Your support is needed now more than ever. Please take the time this year to become actively involved. Your efforts will be greatly appreciated.

FAT TOAD CONTEST WINNERS—The Andover Elementary School held its ninth annual Fat Toad Contest last week. Fifth-grade students weighed the entrants on a pan balance. A total of 19 toads entered, weighing 1.16 kilograms. The smallest toads were brought in by Nigel Kreiton, sitting left, and Shannon Fyrberg whose toads weighed less than one gram each. Other winners were, third place, David Gallant, second row, and with a 105-gram toad; first place, Elijah Lemieux and his 129-gram champion toad and Ezra Lemieux and his 118-gram toad. Fifth-grade teacher Roger Sabin directed the contest.

attend one or more sessions per week, and have the opportunity to work in areas of specific need at their own pace using a combination of one-to-one small group and computer-based instruction.

Nancy Merrow is the instructor. She is also teaching evening classes at Telstar High School and is the instructor for the Project Rural Workplace at Poland Spring Bottling Company. She has a strong background in mathematics and English, and taught previously at the NOVA Adult Education program.

The Adult Learning Center at the Ethel Bisbee School occupies two rooms in the Annex part of the building. The Adult Education program is renting the space from the District at the cost of $15 per room per day.

According to Adult Education Director Cathy Newell, this amount more than covers the additional cost of utilities and custodial services for the section of the building involved and does not minimize the significant savings realized by SAD #44 in discontinuing the use of the facility as an elementary school.

The Learning Center has been furnished with items from district storage as well as with donations from individuals.

The Learning Center provides a convenient location for adult daytime classes, answering a critical need for adult learners in need of academic renewal, Newell said.

She said the Adult Education offices and evening classes will remain at the Telstar High School, as will the University of Maine Interactive Television system.

Adults who are interested in attending classes at the Adult Learning Center should call the Adult and Community Education office, 824-2780.

Adult Ed. registration

The SAD #44 Adult and Community Education program is accepting registrations for fall term courses through the start of classes.

According to the Adult and Community Education Director Cathy Newell, space is available in many of the fall classes. Included in the fall classes which are set to begin during the week of Sept. 16, are the Bill of Rights: 200 Years, which will meet for five weeks on Tuesdays from 7-9 p.m. The class will be taught by Ernest Cassara and will feature a lively look at America's most famous document, including its history and current interpretation.

Other classes set to begin during that week are: Color Photography which meets on Wednesdays with Tim Mills. This class is aimed at the beginner who aspires to take better pictures with a 35mm camera. The class will include field trips.

International Folk Dancing will be taught by Liz Mikenas-Smith for six weeks from 7-9 p.m. on Wednesdays.

Other Wednesday classes will be Woodworking with Tim O'Connor which allows students to learn wood-working skills while working on projects of their choice and Knitting with Jan Todd, where students will work on projects of their choice or a Portuguese fisherman's sweater. On Thursdays, there will be a course in Calligraphy for the Beginner with Donna Lunney from 6:30-8:30 p.m., as well as a course in Conversational Spanish with Felix Otero from 7-9 p.m. All of the above classes meet at Telstar High School.

Donna McCarragher's Machine Quilting class this term will feature Radiant Star at the Bethel Library from 9:30-11:30 on Wednesday mornings. Catherine Calet will teach a Machine Piecing class on Tuesday mornings also at the Library with the featured pattern being Star Highway. To register for any of the SAD #44 classes, call 824-2780.

Crescent Park PTA notes:

President Bush's recent visit to Lewiston to kick off the Maine 2000 education initiative sparked excitement in all of us.

President Bush encouraged us; over and over again, as parents and community members to get involved in our children's education.

With all of Bethel's elementary students under one roof (so to speak) at the Crescent Park School this year we will see many changes. One of them is the Crescent Park PTA. We suggest becoming involved as an active member as one way for you to accept President Bush's challenge.

Our meetings consist of a quick report from our treasurer, secretary and the principal. Each month, we will feature a different presenter to provide information concerning some aspect of school life. We provide free babysitting and refreshments. Please bring your husband or a neighbor.

After our presenter has spoken it is easy to leave if you do not want to be part of the remainder of the business meeting which includes old and new business and any donation requests. Our meetings adjourn at 8 p.m.

We are looking forward to seeing many new faces and welcoming back former faithful members.

Our presenter this month is Norma Salway, kindergarten teacher and volunteer coordinator. She will offer further ideas on how you can be invaluable at Crescent Park as a part of the volunteer program. Please join us for our first meeting of the year on Tuesday, Sept. 17 at 6:30 p.m. at the Crescent Park School.

A week in the life

by HILLARY HARRISON

Hello! Hello! Boy, do I feel like Jello, too. Ever since soccer started every muscle in my body has been sore at least once. I hope I improve a lot this year. I sure am trying hard.

My school work is a bit hard. I'm sure I will have to work but I know I can do it. It's kind of weird getting up in the morning and going to school every day. I don't know why, but I'm still not used to my school schedule yet.

Seminar offered for childcare providers

A Seminar for Childcare Providers is scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 21 from 9-4:30 p.m. at Telstar Regional High School in Bethel.

The free seminar is sponsored by SAD #44 Adult and Community Education and is funded by a grant. Participants, both experienced and aspiring childcare providers, will have the opportunity to experience an exciting day of practical information to help them get off to an exciting year.

Linda Gamble of the University of Maine at Farmington's Early Childhood Education program is coordinating the seminar and will present a session on Child Growth and Development.

Other presenters are Martha Brown of Bethel Pre-school on Art Activities, Liz Mikenas-Smith of SAD #43 on Music Activities, and Celina Couture of the Bethel Day Care on Kitchen and Cooking Activities.

Although the seminar is free, those attending must pre-register to insure that they will receive materials. To register, call 824-2780. Attendees should bring a lunch.

CPS/EBS merge is off to a smooth start

By WENDY HANSCOM

The combining of Crescent Park and Ethel Bisbee schools could have been an administrator's nightmare, but Principal David Murphy says it's been smooth sailing—at least so far.

Crescent Park School opened its doors this year to the largest elementary school population in the district's recent history—about 325 students. The increased population is the result of adding former Ethel Bisbee School students to the CPS roster.

District budgeteers closed the Ethel Bisbee School to elementary pupils for FY'92 and transferred its pupils to CPS.

Murphy said there have been a few rough spots along the way to work out. Getting all students out of the building in a timely, organized manner at the end of the day was a chore at first. On the opening day of school, the building wasn't vacated until 3:05 p.m., but by Friday all students were out the door by 2:30 p.m.

Murphy, Administrative Assistant Bruce Fowell and Food Service Director Geoff Stilphen have also been working the bugs out of hot lunch delivery to portable classrooms. During the opening week of school some students and parents complained that students housed in portables were receiving cold hot lunches and warm milk. Murphy told the SAD #44 school board Monday night that the system is improving daily and complaints are going down.

"The kids seem real comfortable," Murphy said. "The staff and I have been meeting every day after school to work on any problems. We still have a few glitches in transportation and serving hot lunch to work out. The town had to say good-bye to a building that has served them well over the years, and our task now is to prove that this merger is in fact the best possible situation for their children. It's a challenge that both the staff and I look forward to."

This is Murphy's second year as CPS principal. Last year he asked fifth-graders to take a leadership role in the school. This year he's asking the new class of fifth-graders to do the same.

The school has even provided some leadership training for them. Last week about 30 fifth-graders participated in a "leadership experience" at Papoose Pond.

The class spent Tuesday afternoon and evening and all day Wednesday participating in workshops and activities geared toward leadership skills and improving self-esteem.

"We did it because we felt with the size of the school this year it was really important that the fifth-graders set the tone for the building in terms of discipline and high expectations—both in attitude and academics," Murphy said.

"The fifth grade last year also had responsibilities in the school, such as delivering milk, washing windows and generally helping out. The difference between this year and last year is that the fifth grade as a whole also has set some group goals. The trip gave the kids a chance to do some self analysis and come back with a group plan that would allow them to become real school leaders. (The Papoose Pond trip) was probably the best group workshop that I've ever been to."

Murphy is also trying to get the community more involved in the happenings at CPS. The first parent/teacher organization meeting of the year will be held Tuesday, Sept. 17, 6:30 p.m. at the school.

A message from the principal

We are enjoying a wonderful start to the year. All of the students are showing their best behavior. Many projects and learning experiences are happening at school. I am very proud of all of the fine work and effort.

We have completed the third of our ten required fire drills. The students have been most helpful as we organize our plan for a quick evacuation of the building. We are able to have everyone leave the building in under 45 seconds. Great work!

The soccer field is lined and ready for the season. I am sure we will be proud of the effort and sportsmanship our children will demonstrate. Please support our teams!

Subdivision law/review seminar set for Saturday

There will be a Seminar on Subdivision Law and Local Review at Telstar High School on Thursday, Sept. 19 at 7 p.m.

The seminar will be presented by the staff of Androscoggin Valley Council of Governments and will review Maine Subdivision Law, as well as local subdivision ordinances and application review procedures. It is intended for municipal planning board members and others who need an overview of the law and responsibilities of the municipality and the developer.

A second seminar at Telstar on the Role of the Board of Appeals, will be held on Thursday, Oct. 17. This session will cover the creation of local boards of appeal, variances, the hardship test, and how new shoreland zoning affects the Board of Appeals.

It is intended for municipal board members and others with an interest in the process.

The seminars are co-sponsored by SAD #44 Adult and Community Education. Although there is no charge, it is essential that those attending pre-register by calling the Adult Education office, 824-2780, or AVOG at 783-9186.

for OCRSWC, said that the cans need to be rinsed, labels removed and the can flattened. Can lids also be put in. The only thing not acceptable are paint and aerosol cans, she said.

Since April, OCRSWC has recycled 242 tons of material, Bartlett said. Bethel has collected 27 tons, Gilead four tons, Greenwood and Woodstock a combined 20 tons and Newry three tons. "We would have hoped for a little more," Bartlett said, "but the towns are gearing into it."

Bartlett added that OCRSWC already recycles aluminum cans. If recyclers have a problem telling tin from aluminum, they can use a magnet to tell them apart, she said. The magnet will attach to tin but not aluminum.

Bartlett said she is putting together one page monthly handouts that detail the requirements for recycling various materials. She said this month OCRSWC will feature tin.

Bill and Sally Berry, Daniel and Ryan returned home on Sunday after vacationing the past week at Big Moose, N.Y., where they were joined by Sally's parents Larry and Laura Davis, sister Nancy and brother Larry, Shelley and Zachary of Rochester, N.Y.

Vance and Connie Bacon, DeDe Chase, Stan and Maxine Cram, Carmen Hadley and Eldith Lang were in Stratton/Eustis at Cathedral Pines for the Labor Day weekend.

Vicky Sanborn and Brant of North Conway, N.H. spent several days Labor Day weekend at camp on Hicks Pond in Greenwood with her parents Vernon and Miriam Inman. Sandy Sanborn spent the day on Monday.

Vince and Beverly Stevens, Stacy and Darcy were camping at Cathedral Pines this past weekend.

Althea Field entertained 21 family members and friends at her home on Sunday.

On Aug. 30 Dixie Inman's sister Diane Komulainen of North Norway, completed her studies at St. Mary's Hospital School of Radiologic Technology in Lewiston. Family and friends attending her graduation were her mother Florence Komulainen and Winnifred Korhonen of North Norway; Arlene Austin of Harrison; Paul, Joy and Zachary Curran-Komulainen of Mechanic Falls; Dixie, Gregg, Audrey and Abby Inman, Priscilla Brett, Kathleen Holden, Nina and Judy McLaughlin, all of West Paris.

Ivan and Ann Proctor and Ivan Jr.; Sid and Cynthia Scott were at Stony Brook, Stratton during the long weekend.

Gary and Lisa Latno and Bev were camping at South Arm Campground for the weekend.

The Historical Society will meet for a potluck supper and meeting on Monday, Sept. 16, at the Society building. Supper committee is Vernon and Miriam Inman. Work will be done on shutters.

Peter Stowell of Whitefield called on Alma Hewey, Gertrude Hutchins and George Hall. He is a son of Harriet and George Stowell. The Stowell family lived in Andover as neighbors of these ladies years ago.

Deanna Hutchins and Bruce Fowler called on Gertrude Hutchins.

Bus riders to Rumford on Wednesday were Mary Thurston, Elizabeth Sennett and Gertrude Hutchins. Guy Hall called on aunt Florence Hall on Monday.

Gertrude Hutchins had dinner with son Robert and family on Labor Day. Florence Hall visited with Arvilla Feener.

Callers at Alma Hewey's were Louise Powell, Bernice Wing and Minnie Akers.

The Greenwood Fire Department will hold training session Wednesday, Sept. 18, at 8:30 p.m. at the fire station.

The Praise Assembly of God's Bethel mid-week service will be held at 6 p.m. at Debbie and Owen Brown's on the Flat Road in West Bethel on Thursday evenings, so Rev. Robert Rainville can be present. Anyone interested is welcome to attend.

until foliage time, and somewhat cooler temperatures are prevailing.

I've had a busy week putting up relish, taking care of Elvira Littlehale (I even got to attend a senior citizen dinner with her, a treat since I'm usually on the "putting on" end), visiting Thelma Merrill at the nursing home, and visiting sister-in-law, Carolyn and boys, West Greenwood, and at the Shimamura's in Northwest Bethel.

I'd really appreciate your getting to me any news you have. The column is short and pretty much my own "doings" this week since I did not have the time I expected to get in touch with you out there. I was checking my calendar Friday morning and was horrified to find I'd missed a test earlier in the morning at Stephens Memorial Hospital so I called and they said, "Come on down now" so that is what I did. It was a beautiful drive down and back with less traffic and bright, breezy weather but it was not what I expected to be doing. So please, you be in touch so I can be through this column.

My daughter just called to say she had gotten a parttime job with a cleaning establishment. Since she's taking classes at the college this fall she's going to be a pretty busy lady. Good thing she got to visit when she did.

A beautiful morning to start off the week even though it is a little cool. Got an idea there was frost on the pumpkin in places but we were lucky as usual and protected by the woods around us so no frost as yet.

Brother Lawrence had to have an operation and is coming good after having it for which we are all thankful. He has had lots of pain for sometime.

Russell said when he went berrying on Sunday that it looked as though a bear might have been there and laid down for awhile. They are around so it just might be that there was one there.

Lawrence and Grace saw a raccoon out in the road one morning and said he looked sick. They were not able to do anything about him so hope he was okay and that no one gets in contact with him to get bitten or anything. Never know if he might be rabid or not.

Peggy went to Bethel on Sunday afternoon to see her daughter Loretta Merrill and family.

Oh yes, Laura was over one day to visit. The first time that she has been over for ages as she is so busy in the restaurant where she does the cooking. That is D.J.'s in Rumford. They have a lot of regular customers come and seem to be doing well. Too busy to shut down and go visiting anyway.

David Small from Kennebunkport spent the day Thursday with the Lovejoys. They always enjoy his visits.

Glen Virge from Nashua, N.H. spent a few days with the Lovejoys before leaving for the west coast.

A number of the Grange members from West Paris Grange went to Nestor Tamminen's for a picnic supper on Thursday evening. Peggy said it was nice too as she went along. They presented him with a gift for the many years he was treasurer of the Grange for them. He is unable to do so any more.

Marcia Baxter spent the weekend in the Bangor area celebrating her 40th birthday. Her family threw a party for her. Maybe she would have rather not had folks know her age, however.

Faith Lovejoy had the misfortune to fracture her finger. Bet it is painful. This past weeks news is that Mary Lovejoy and girls were in Lewiston to see the eye doctors.

Jenny Haverdorn spent a couple of days with the Lovejoy girls and on Sunday, the Lovejoy's entertained the following at their camp: Impi and Raymond Mack of West Paris; David Small of Kennebunkport; Marcia Baxter of West Paris; Helena Bartlett of Bethel; and Alan Lovejoy and Joel Martino of South Paris. They had lots of company as you can see. Thanks for the news Mary. Hope everyone has a good week ahead and watch out for those small people waiting for the big yellow buses to come to take them to school.

Weston Flint and Irene Hapgood of South Paris were recent callers of Elmira Doyen. Visitors there over the weekend and holiday were Hugh and Marjorie Awalt of Augusta; Mrs. Ann Gardner of Waterford; Connie Hindman and two families who are moving to the Bethel area.

Sunday visitors at the David Salway's were Bernie and Kassi Gatchell and Kathy of Auburn and Brandon and Tara Salway of Old Orchard Beach.

Sunday afternoon Alice Kimball and Dottie Adams drove Erin Kimball back to Plymouth State College. The ride through the mountains was beautiful, a clear September day.

Francis Brooks, Evelyn Bean, Mansfield Packard and Bernice Swan have donated items to the historical museum. Curator Larry Billings has been studying a History of England and he has worked in the museum. Olive Risko and Francis Brooks watched the historical museum recently. The Historical Society will meet on Saturday, Sept. 14.

Franklin Grange #124 will meet on Sept. 16 for past masters night with a 6:30 supper.

The Woodstock Extension will meet Sept. 18 at the conference room at the town office. This will be a planning meeting for open house.

Larry Billings has given a crystal vase and silk flowers to the historical museum. He also gave a derby hat and a small carved bust.

Christopher Hoyt has returned home from boot camp in South Carolina. Friday night several family and friends greeted him with a party at his parents' home.

At the Historical meeting Saturday, Sept. 14, the men are to bring refreshments. Larry Billings gave a small silver bowl to the museum. The museum has some items and photos from Stowells mill.

What happened to the summer?/I really couldn't say/I'm sure it must have taken wings/And quietly flown away. (Garnet Schultz)

Today closes the month of August. Gone now is the hurry of summer and the impatience of developing maturity. Mornings will be cooler for there is something about September that sets it apart from other months. There are days of mellow heat, when a soft haze hovers over the fields and hills; the nights are crisp with stars over all.

Along the roads the sunsets hold their scarlet banners aloft. I noticed them today, as I walked. The wild blue asters lift their beauty to the sun. Cat-tails are changing their deep brown cylindrical heads to the light brown they will wear through the winter. Here and there I caught glimpses of flaming bouquets of red leaves which fell tales of the season to come.

Near my driveway at the side of the road I noticed a strip of birch bark, probably torn from the tree during hurricane "Bob."

The birch has been called Mother Tree of America. The bark is soft, smooth and snowy-white, with a delicate tan lining. It peels from the tree in layers, paper thin, and is easy to write on, a characteristic that has lent the tree the name of paper birch.

The American Forestry Association chose the paper birch when they searched for a tree to honor American Mothers and has been widely planted throughout the nation in tribute to the mothers of America.

I often think as I walk the roads how much they have changed. Now from city to city and town to town they carry the nation's rubber-wheeled traffic. But back from the speeding streams of traffic there are occasionally found dirt roads. They wind along beside singing brooks; they climb hardwood ridges and meander from farm to farm. They curve along the contours of the land, perhaps following the first trails established so long ago by pioneers with dreams of new homes. These roads dip into peaceful hollows where once were weather-grazed splinter-plank bridges across small streams. At the turn of the century these roads had three tracks, two where wheels rolled and one in the center scuffed by the horses.

One can read today part of our country's history in the abandoned roads. Long ago men built stone walls along them. Now they are hidden by bushes, trees, goldenrod and asters. Cellar holes are a reminder of the days when quiet roads were well populated.

September dirt roads now browse in yellow sunshine. No longer fit for our needs, but their beauty and peace remind us of the role they played in our nation's growth.

Sept. 1 brought us cool refreshing weather, a big change from last week. On Wednesday Dot Betts took her car and took the "Tired Teachers" group to Lewiston where we met Doris Hayes and her sister for lunch. Then we went to Doris' home in Gray for the afternoon. We had a nice trip and a nice visit.

It seems very natural to see the school bus going by again but it's hard to believe that it's that time again. Vacation time is over and the day is here at last when we see that youthful army as it goes hurrying past. It tells very plainly that another summer's gone, and time is making changes as days go marching on.

Ann, Fay and I attended church Sunday. It was the last Sunday our minister, Rev. Konni Wells, was to be with us, for she is moving. We will miss her.

Jan Schaefer spent an evening with me this week.

Newry

By JIM ANDERSON

Monday, Labor Day, I had decided to work on an apple tree on our property by the Branch Road. Once I started to work on picking the apples, the fire department pager went off with an equipment fire up at the Sunday River Skiway, opposite the Jack Frost Shop. Going to the site, I heard Ed Powers trying to reach the site by radio to see if they wanted Unit 201, after a few calls, he received a definite yes. By that time I was at the fire.

A piece of logging equipment was on fire, but no trees had gone up. We managed to get the Maxin and the Ford up to the fire before the Jeep got there. Back at the Sunday River Station, I made out the fire report and the list of who was at the fire. Then the chief looked over the report and approved it. Back home, after lunch, I tried again to work on the apple tree when the pager went off with a call for the Bethel Ambulance to go to an accident up at Screw Auger Falls. Knowing full well what might happen next, I was prepared for Tink going to the scene with Unit 201. I headed up to the site, and this was supposed to be a holiday?

Sometime this week or next, I am supposed to cut Connie Hindman's grass. Hope to get there this week. Connie runs the "Voices for the Blind" that is located along Route 5 outside of Bethel. "Voices" records books, text books as well as literature, for the blind and the handicapped. It is a non-profit business. Connie is a Jefferson Award winner and a trained social worker. In these tight times, I know from working with her, that donations and volunteers are hard to come by. I just hope more people become aware of this fine one woman operation. She does have help, but not enough of either money or volunteers to be as successful as this project should be.

Sept. 4 saw the Anderson household getting ready for the Newry Ladies Circle meeting. After helping mother with a few last minute things, I took Erica, my dog, over to the Sunday River Fire House to do some work there and keep out of mother's way.

During the morning Tink stopped at the house with a check from the Hanover forest fire. Anyway, on the home front, there were six members and one guest, Irene Hadfield, at the meeting. After the devotions by mother, the secretaries and treasurer report were given by Freda Robertson; Sylvia Wight gave the church's treasurer's report. There was talk about the school bus routes, the time had by all at the church picnic and Sylvia Wight's visitation to Reta Carlisle and Alice Guay. Reta Carlisle is sitting up and her sister, Alice Guay, is better. Also Sylvia visited Roger and Amy Hanscom at the Rumford Health Care Facility and found them doing well. Roger is leading the Wednesday devotions at the Health Care Facility.

Next meeting is to be held at the home of Freda Robertson on Oct. 7 at 12:30 p.m. At this meeting the ladies will have a "white elephant" sale.

Mrs. Irvin Kennison Smith and husband attended a family gathering at a Vermont lake this weekend. There were to be about 18 present.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Andrews came over Wednesday to help me out with mowing and repairing porch. He also cut limbs off the butternut tree. The girls picked up a pair of butternuts off the limbs that Arthur cut off.

Esther and Olive Davis took a ride Tuesday over Grover Hill near Bethel. I hadn't been over that road since I was a little girl and that was with horses then. We came out at West Bethel and home from there and we didn't miss the ice cream parlor near Bethel either.

Lettie and Carl Brooks brought me some cucumbers Saturday so I was able to make a batch of cucumber relish besides some to eat. I haven't been able to have a garden so this is it this year. Thanks Lettie and Carl.

The Woodstock Historical Society will hold its next meeting Sept. 14.

Irene Leighton of Rumford and Arlene Baldwin of Mexico spent Monday with Mrs. Gordon Dillingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Dillingham and Craig Dillingham and Beth drove to Brewer Saturday stopping off at Dysart's for supper.

Mrs. Gordon Dillingham went with the West Summer Senior Citizens group to Berlin, N.H. on Tuesday. The group stopped off to do some shopping at the mall and then met at Norland's for lunch. Eleven people attended this get-together.

Gordon Dillingham rode with his son Craig Monday to Errol, N.H. Craig drives tractor trailer for a company out of Poland.

Sandy Spenser was home at the trailer over the weekend. She helped Sandra Broberg with filling finger rolls and then the family went to the wedding and reception of David and Sandra Broberg's daughter Saturday, Aug. 31.

Monday, Sept. 2, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Record were given a 25th anniversary party at the community hall. It was well attended, given by their children.

Sunday, Sept. 1, great-grandniece, Jenn Felt, left for Farmington College. She has two nice roommates and I know they will have fun. It is hard never being away from home, but I know you'll make out alright Jenn, we love you.

Tuesday, Sept. 3, 21 seniors and one guest met for a potluck dinner at the Mission Congregational Church. Rudy Honkala showed some interesting slides. It was voted to go to the Rustler's Restaurant in Oxford, Oct. 1. Members meet at the Baptist Church parking lot and fill cars. Hope that quite a few will attend. November will be Thanksgiving at Ledgeview auditorium.

Wednesday, Sept. 4, a meeting was held at the community hall. Reports were read and accepted. Glad to see Susan Lyons and Elliot back from being at the island for the summer. Officers elected: Joe Vatcher, president; Beryl Oja, treasurer; and Susan Lyons as secretary. It was voted to have a supper Sept. 28. Beans, salads, casseroles, rolls, biscuits and gingerbread with real whipped cream. John Haney made the biscuits for the supper but his wife had the key to his truck and he had no way to get them over to the supper. Different people he called were already at the supper.

Callers: Joe and Madge Vatcher, Odell Heath, Sherry Thayer who brought Jason. We visited the Richard Felts.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vatcher, Roberta Isley, Maureen Isley and children have all returned after visiting relatives in Nova Scotia.

that he bid successfully on the project two days later.

In rebuilding the camp, Cyr moved it a short distance further back from the water, in order that decks could be put on while still maintaining the original setbacks.

In reviewing the project Monday, the board determined that the work conformed with the town's shoreline zoning ordinance, but that the new decks were not covered in the original application.

The decks had been brought to the board's attention by town assessors Herb Dunham and Marie Bartlett, who had recently made an assessment visit at the camp site.

Planning board member Med Barton—who chaired Monday's meeting in the absence of chairman Wayne Hakala—said he had also inspected the site.

After a review of the plans, the board suggested that Cyr contact the Stewards, seek approval to act as their representative in the matter, and submit an after-the-fact application for the deck work.

The penalty for after-the-fact application is a five-fold increase in normal fee. In the case of a new deck, the increased fee would amount to $50. Cyr is expected to submit the new application at the board's regular meeting next week.

In other business Monday, the board discussed applications by Robert Chadbourne for an addition to his camp on South Pond and by Richard and Beverly Melville for a deck on above-ground swimming pool at their residence on the Knoll Road.

In both of the above cases the board determined that the work fell within shoreline zoning and would therefore require on-site inspections.

The board granted approval to Arnie Rainey to raise the roof and construct an entry-way roof on a structure owned by David Osborne on the Greenwood Road.

Antiinflammatory Medicines for Arthritis

Almost 40 million Americans suffer from one of several forms of arthritis. Osteoarthritis is a gradual wearing away of cartilage, the cushioning substance at the ends of bones. Cartilage loss causes bones to rub together, resulting in joint swelling and pain. Rheumatoid arthritis is a systematic disease that affects the membrane that lines the joints. The inflammation eventually destroys cartilage.

The primary treatment for rheumatoid arthritis pain is with a group of medicines referred to as the non-steroidal antiinflammatory agents. These medicines can provide rapid relief from pain and joint inflammation. According to a recent report in American Druggist, the most popular nonsteroidal medicines are aspirin, ibuprofen and several prescription-only antiinflammatory drugs including naproxen, diclofenac, flurbiprofen, and piroxicam. These medicines produce their effect by inhibiting the body's production of hormones called prostaglandins.

Response to the nonsteroidal antiinflammatory agents varies from person to person. If dose adjustments are not effective in reducing pain and/or inflammation, different agents often are prescribed. Medicine side effects, which can include stomach, liver, and kidney problems, seem to occur more often in older persons.

INDIAN POND CAMP SITE—The Greenwood Planning Board has determined that the rebuilding of a camp formerly located on this site at the southeast end of Indian Pond complies with the town's shoreline zoning regulations. However, no application was ever submitted for the camp's decks (constructed after the photo was taken), and the board has instructed the contractor—and planning board member—Jim Cyr to have the Boston couple who own the camp submit an after-the-fact application for the deck work.

Chamber of Commerce seeks new office space

The Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce must be out of its office at the Mountain View Mall by Nov. 1.

According to Executive Director Robin Zinchuk, the chamber has not yet located a new site for its office.

Landlord Carl Hansen said he plans to meet with the Bethel planning board to discuss using the current chamber office space to increase the size of the Mexican restaurant Cisco and Panchos.

Freshman awareness workshop scheduled

On Sept. 16 and 17 the freshman class of Telstar High School will be participating in a Freshman Awareness Committee at Telstar (FACT), which consists of over 30 sophomore, junior and senior peer helpers.

Advisor Elizabeth LaVallee, guidance counselor at the high school, said she feels confident that this workshop helps freshmen adjust to high school life.

This year's theme is "Living in the 90s." Students will receive presentations from featured speakers, Dr. Patricia Williams, State Trooper James Corbett, humorist Bill Wood, illusionist Bruce Johnson, Outward Bound instructor Janet Green, SAD #44 guidance director Dan Hart, chemical health coordinator Rodney Abbott and Tri-County counselor Andy Derstine.

The following topics will be discussed in small groups: self-esteem building; meeting new friends (individually and in groups); sexuality; decision-making; goals—academic, career and personal and high school climate (how to cope with high school, stress and depression.)

The FACT team will plan on a half day follow-up workshop in mid-winter to see how the freshmen are doing in high school.

Keith Wight completes biology research project

Keith Wight, son of Steve and Peggy Wight of Sunday River Inn in Newry, recently completed a research project at University of Washington's Friday Harbor Laboratories in Friday Harbor, San Juan Islands, Wash.

The project was directed by Professor Liz Frances of Bates College, Lewiston, and was a continuation of work on the behaviors of hermit crabs that gained the research team recognition in the scientific community when their paper was published in Biological Bulletin in 1989.

want their children adding any more bus time onto an already long ride. Administrative Assistant Bruce Powell told the parents he would look at the changes again and report back.

At Monday night's meeting, Andover parents repeated that they were unhappy with the route changes. Betty Misericocchi said, "My son has been to school on time only one day since he's been there, and that day he said the bus was flying. I don't want to have that situation continue."

Powell said that buses were arriving "marginally on time" and were not traveling too fast.

Mary Richardson disagreed. "I do take exception to you saying the kids are not late. They are getting to the point now where they're on time—walking into the room as the announcements are started. They're dead last when they get into the building. Everybody else is already seated and listening to announcements. (The late students) stick out like a sore thumb and they're interrupting the rest of the class. Yes, if we race down the road we can get there just on time, but these weather conditions aren't going to last. The parent I've talked to don't want their kids going onto a secondary road in the winter time."

Busdriver Smith agreed that the trip will take longer in the winter time. "When the weather gets bad there's no way I'm going to get them to school on time," she said.

Powell said the only way time could be trimmed from the Andover students' ride was to add another bus run.

Superintendent Dewaine Craig added, "One of the key issues we have to consider is money. I just want everybody to understand that we may have to come back and ask for more money. If an extra run is needed, then it boils down to money. The solution to the problem is immediate, but where I'm going to get the finances is not."

Board Chairman Margaret Hand said she wanted to momentarily step down from her position as board chair to address the Andover parents as a director from Woodstock. "This is a district that is in financial trouble," she said. "We spent a lot of time agonizing over a budget this year—and we cut it. We are a district. My town lost a sixth-grade. This town (Bethel) lost a school. Everyone had to give something up. I want that noted before the board does anything on this issue."

Andover director Brad Thibodeau asked Craig to place the bus issue on the next agenda for discussion. Powell said at that time he will report to the board the cost of adding another bus run.

In other business, Building and Grounds Committee Chairman Ray Harrington said the committee is continuing its planning of the Crescent Park School expansion project. Harrington said that the committee hopes to begin discussion with the state and the district about the project next year.

The board also approved substitute and extra-curricular personnel for the 1991-92 school year and accepted the resignation of bus driver Sheila Verrill.

All board members were present at Monday's meeting. Greenwood selectmen have not appointed a replacement director for Ivan Roberts, who resigned last month.

A STICK, IT SEEMS, IS NOT ENOUGH—to warn MDOT grader operators that a manhole is coming up. Last spring MDOT graders banged their blades on two of the manhole covers along the Sunday River road. The manholes are to the effluent line for Sunday River Ski Resorts, so MDOT asked the resort to set up signs to warn the grader operators next spring. The Burma-Shave-like results are, in the eyes of some local residents, a bit of overkill, and Sunday River says it is reviewing the situation to see if there are less visually intrusive options. "What's next," said one local wag, "signs warning 'mailbox approaching?'"

Sunday River

river basin. The report twice identifies the ski resort as one of four "important point sources of pollution" in the study area, the other sources being the James River plant in Berlin, N.H. and domestic sewage treatment plants in Berlin and Bethel.

The statements appear to be based on a previous unidentified report that is at least ten years old.

In a letter to Elliot Gimble, president of the Atlantic Center, Sunday River attorney Robert A. Moore termed the statements "false and defamatory."

"If you cannot substantiate the statements made in your report regarding Sunday River, we demand that you publish a retraction immediately," Moore wrote.

Otten said the resort did not discharge directly into the Androscoggin River until 1987, when its own sewage treatment plant went on line. The plant only discharges five months out of the year, its effluent is monitored daily and it has never discharged untreated sewage into the river, he claimed.

"If we had E. coli (fecal coliform bacteria) present we'd have to chlorinate," he said, "and to the best of my knowledge we've never had to." An effluent pipe takes treated water from the Sunday River plant to the Androscoggin (see photo above).

The water-quality monitoring records provided by Otten appear to corroborate his contention that the plant's discharge is well below its allowable limits in all the monitored categories.

Also he noted, the plant has, even at peak periods, never discharged more than 30 percent of its maximum quota of 300,000 gallons a day.

And, he said, even if the plant were discharging 300,000 gallons a day, and pushing the limits in the monitored categories, it's effect on the river would be—"not a detectable impact."

He also pointed out that the plant's effluent contains a higher level of dissolved oxygen (a good quality) than the river itself.

Otten also denied that the resort polluted Barker Brook—which drains much of the resort and flows into the Sunday River, then into the Androscoggin.

"We've had weekly tests for years (on Barker Brook)," he said.

Again, the resort's water-quality monitoring records bear out Otten's claim that the skitway is not polluting the local waterway.

A water-quality expert at the Maine Department of Environmental Protection, contacted later by The Citizen, said that the fecal coliform levels in the Barker Brook reports would be consistent with those of a free-running wild river.

Otten said that Sunday River cooperated at length with the interns making last summer's inventory work. "We showed them around and I citizen's complaints. As for the next phase of sewer work, Henley said she has the applications in for grant money and a loan from FmHA and another Community Development Block Grant.

The loan/grant package proposal for additional sewer work would go before Bethel voters for approval. "The proposal would be taken to a public hearing and then a town meeting," Henley said. "We'd be in the area of borrowing $100,000. Then the rest would be a grant—about $205,000. I've been told by FmHA we do stand a good chance of getting it. The competition for the grants is not that intensive right now because some towns just can't put up the matching funds."

If voters decide to continue the sewer work, the west end of Railroad Street and lower Main Street—from the Vernon Street intersection to the sewer plant access road—are next in line for improvements.

Town office renovations—the saga continues

At its regular meeting (Wednesday), the Bethel Planning Board will once again take up the question of whether a permit should have been required for the town office renovation work.

At the board's last meeting, members voted unanimously that the renovations should have come before the board for site plan review—due primarily to the increase in parking space needed to accommodate the expanded meeting room.

But in a subsequent letter to the Bethel selectmen—who are responsible for the town office—the planning board acknowledged that it had probably committed a procedural error in not notifying the selectmen beforehand that it planned to take up the matter at its earlier meeting.

Accordingly, the issue has been placed on the agenda again for tonight's meeting.

Bethel Town Manager Madeleine Henley said that either a selectman or their representative would attend tonight's meeting to argue that the meeting room expansion was not a significant enough change of use to warrant site plan review.

The town office renovation work was completed in stages over the past three years, but no site plan review application was ever submitted for the project.

talked with them for two or three hours in my office. I told them how important we thought the river was to this area," Otten said.

The interns did not, however, examine the water-quality reports, Otten said.

Copies of the letter from the resort's attorney to Gimble were sent to a dozen sponsors or supporters of the inventory project. Otten said he has also written personally to these groups or individuals inviting them to examine the resort's water-quality records.

In Bethel, wastewater treatment plant operator Rob Gundersen also denied that the town's treatment system is currently polluting the river.

The town's system had long been identified as a polluter, but the recently completed upgrade at the treatment plant, and downtown revitalization work (completed after the study was completed) have virtually eliminated river pollution, Gundersen said.

As for Sunday River's system, Gundersen said, it's state of the art and "works beautifully."

On Monday the Atlantic Center for the Environment issued a brief media statement reading as follows: "In light

NO MORE GRAVEL SIDEWALKS—Pike Industries crews started paving Bethel's Main Street sidewalks last week. The work should be completed this week. Before the Downtown Revitalization Project wraps up for the winter, sub-coat paving is also scheduled for Mason, Spring, High and Elm streets. (Photo by Wendy Hanscom) of Sunday River Ski Resort's objections received on 9 September 1991 to the Androscoggin River Inventory Project report produced in April 1991 by the Atlantic Center for the Environment, we are reviewing our data to assess what, if any, objections to the findings are legitimate and whether any modifications to the findings are justified."

On Tuesday, Elliot Gimble returned a call from The Citizen but refused to comment further on what specific basis, if any, the Atlantic Center had for the claims that Sunday River was polluting the Androscoggin.

He said a statement would be issued following an internal review of the report.

Also on Tuesday, Herb Hartman, director of the state Department of Parks and Recreation, told The Citizen that his department, a co-sponsor of the report, was extremely concerned about the veracity of the claims against Sunday River. "We certainly don't condone inaccurate information," he said. Such inaccurate information would not only harm Sunday River, he said, but it would call into question the reliability of other environmental studies.

Hartman said his department had also worked with the Atlantic Center on a number of other such studies—studies which had proven to be very helpful to the landowners and the public.

But, he said, all of the earlier studies had gone through an extensive review process, which does not seem to have been the case with the Androscoggin study.

Mahoosuc Land Trust President Kirk Siegel said he had asked the Atlantic Center for documentation of the charges. "We feel Sunday River is a real, positive economic and social force in this community," he said, "and we hope their reputation is not tarnished by the report."

However, Steve Wight, president of the Friends of the Androscoggin, said the ski resort might "have shot itself in the foot," by its response to the report.

The letter from the attorney to Gimble was the first word that either the local sponsors of the study or the Atlantic Center had of the problem, Wight said. "We thought they served notice in the wrong way. I'm sure there was a better way to handle the situation."

Otten said that Sunday River "has no interest in suing the Atlantic Center," but if the statements were not retracted, "then we'll settle it in court."

But, he said, even with a retraction, the harm already done to the resort could be long lasting.

He said he could only attribute the statements to "youthful ignorance.... Those were just college kids on their break, not paid professionals," he said.

MR. AND MRS. THOMAS MILES

Darcie Anne Witter, daughter of Michael and Gail Witter of Bethel, and Thomas John Miles, son of Peter and Jeanne Miles of Burke Hollow, Vt., were united in marriage on June 1, 1991.

The double ring ceremony was officiated by Rev. Ann Erickson of Lyndonville, Vt., at the Burke Hollow Church. Amy Jones of York, Pa., served as maid of honor and Sean Wallace of East Burke, Vt., served as best man. Tammy Hildreth of Orleans, Ma., and Tricia Connor of Walpole, Ma., served as bridesmaids. Stuart Miles of Burke Hollow, Vt., and Peter Tomczyk of Trumbull, Ct., served as ushers. Megan and Joshua Taylor of Bethel, served as flowergirl and ringbearer.

AIDS Walk-91 set for Oct. 13

The State of Maine AIDS Walk-91 will be held Sunday, Oct. 13, by eight community programs throughout the state—Bangor, Belfast, Bridgton, Brunswick, Ellsworth, Portland, Rumford and Waterville.

Each community participating in the walk will receive 85 percent of the proceeds brought in by its walkers and/or donations. Last year, Rumford had 150 walkers from the seventeen communities it represents (Andover, Bethel, Bryant Pond, Byron, Canton, Carthage, Dixfield, Frye, Hanover, Locke Mills, Mexico, Milton Plantation, Newry, Peru, Roxbury, Rumford and Weld).

For Walk-91, the Community AIDS Awareness Program is planning on 300 walkers to follow the route from the American Legion Hall to the Oxford Credit Union in Mexico, and return to the Legion Hall. Refreshments will be available at the hall, and Tony Belkis will provide music from 2:30-4:40 p.m. Pledge sheets for walkers may be obtained from the following locations;

The bride, given away by her father, wore an ivory, floor length dress of lace over satin and carried a bouquet of Queen Anne's lace, and English ivy.

The attendants wore tea length, peach lace over satin dresses and carried a single stem coral rose with Queen Anne's lace. The flowergirl wore a mini-replica of the attendants' gown and carried a basket of coral roses, Queen Anne's lace, and English ivy.

The reception was held at the Burke Mountain Resort. The couple honeymooned on the coast of Maine and will make their home in Burke, Vermont.

In Canton, the town office; Dixfield, Bartash's; in Bethel, Prim's. Pledge sheets are also available at the three area high schools: Dirigo, Mountain Valley and Telstar.

Businesses, organizations, schools, clubs, churches and medical facilities are encouraged to walk as teams representing their groups and affiliations. For those who prefer not to walk, but would like to support Walk-91, checks, made out to Maine Walk, may be mailed to CAAAP, Box 431, Rumford, 04276.

ty art shows, generously contributed to the endowment and been an eager volunteer in numerous Society activities. The Noll Award was created in 1987 to honor an outstanding volunteer or volunteers and is named in honor of Marjorie MacArthur Noll, who was long a faithful volunteer at the Bethel Historical Society.

As this meeting commemorated the Society's 25 years of existence, president Hosterman called attention to progress over the past quarter century. The membership has gone from 18 charter members to more than 900 today, the endowment has grown to more than $350,000 today. The Society has a headquarters, a large collection of artifacts and archival material, and a staff of three and more than 100 volunteers. Society Director Stanley R. Howe presented a brief slide show of Society events over the past quarter century. A birthday cake, made by Diane Howe, celebrating the Society's latest milestone, was enjoyed by those present.

Featured for the evening was Earle G. Shettleworth Jr., Director of the Maine Historic Preservation Commission, who provided a slide presentation, "The Palace in the Woods: The New England Summer Hotels of John Calvin Stevens." Shettleworth, who has studied the work of Stevens for many years, focused on some of Stevens' commissions, which included parts of the famous Poland Spring House, for example. Stevens was also invited to submit plans for the structure that became the Bethel Inn, but these were rejected and the Boston firm of Coolidge and Carlson was selected.

Shettleworth showed many examples of these grand structures which were so popular in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. Fashion changed and with the automobile, most of these grand hotels exist today only on paper.

President Hosterman closed the meeting by thanking all those who made it possible, including special gratitude to Barbara H. Brown for once more providing the fine floral arrangements to make this meeting such a special one each year.

MR. AND MRS. JAMIE BLAKE

Andrea Lea Howe and USMC Lance Corporal Jamie Michael Blake were married July 6 at 4 p.m. at the East Bethel Church by the Rev. Lisa R. Vonderheide.

Special music was provided by Rev. Genevieve Heywood and the organist was Jason Adams.

The bride is the daughter of Alan and Diane Howe of Bethel, and the groom is the son of Robert and Cynthia Blake of Bethel.

The bride wore a white satin, short-sleeve, floor-length gown with princess style bodice and lace overlay made by her mother. She wore a miniature red rose headpiece and carried a red rose bouquet.

The maid of honor was Amy Ohrenberger of Farmington. The bridesmaids were Haley Blake, Alyssa while LCPL Blake attends school of Howe and Rebekah Howe. They all wore blue satin, short-sleeve, mid-calf length dresses with lace overlay, also made by Diane Howe, and carried red and white bouquets.

The groom wore his USMC dress blue uniform. The best man was Christopher Buckingham of Bryant Pond, and the ushers were Dustin Howe, Thaddeus Wheeler and Stanley Moore Jr. They wore white tuxedos with blue satin cummerbunds.

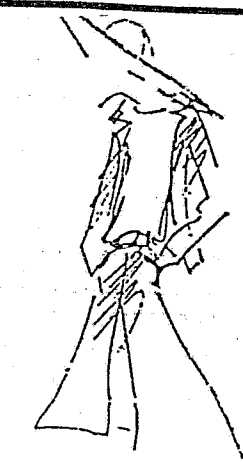

The reception was held at the Locke Mills Legion Hall. Chris Chapman was the master of ceremonies for the occasion.

The couple left for Augusta, Ga. the following day, where the groom is stationed at Fort Gordon. They are currently residing in Grovetown, Ga. while LCPL Blake attends school of cryptography.

Maine Handicapped Skiing to dedicate new center

Maine Handicapped Skiing's (MHS) Celebration Committee has announced that the MHS Ski Center Dedication, Whittier Ceremony and 10th Season Celebration will be held Saturday, Oct. 12 at 2 p.m. in the MHS Ski Center, adjacent to the Sundance Slope at Sunday River Ski Resort in Newry.

"This is our chance to recognize those persons who contributed time and money to make the MHS Ski Center possible," said committee chairman Charles "Cuddy" Cohen.

The event coincides with Sunday River's Fall Festival Weekend, which features an Arts and Crafts Festival; Hike, Walk and Run and Mountain Bike Festival.

MHS will also host an Open House on Sunday, Oct. 13 from 10 a.m.-3 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

From the Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce

Our volunteers are heading to the Eastern States Exposition this week to set up and "person" our "Western Mountains and Lakes Region" exhibit. Bill and Ernestine Riley will be setting up, followed by Ed and Mary Jo Kennell on the weekend. Next week Vince and Janet Giarusso from Glover Development and Robin Zinchuk will be representing our region.

The Chamber Board of Directors will be meeting on Thursday, Sept. 12, for the regular monthly meeting.

Also on Sept. 12 the public is invited to attend a forum on Referendum Question #1—Whether or not we should widen the Maine Turnpike. It will be held at 7 p.m. at the Telstar lecture hall.

SUNDAY SOCCER FOR ADULTS

It's time once again for Sunday Soccer! Sunday Soccer is co-ed, pick-up soccer for adults. The scrimmages will begin on Sunday, Sept. 15 and run through Oct. 27. They are held at 1 p.m. at the Telstar Regional High School fields. For further information, please call Vicki Rackliffe at 824-2284. You can join in on any Sunday.

Home weatherization workshops offered

The SAD #44 Adult and Community Education program, along with the Energy Conservation Division of the Department of Economic and Community Development, is again offering the Weatherize Homes in Maine (WHIME) program at Telstar High School on Sept. 17 and 19 from 6:30-9:30.

The program involves two three-hour classes and instruction in home energy conservation.

To register, call the Adult and Community Education office, 824-2780.

AWANA GROUPS TO MEET

Awana Youth Groups will meet Fridays beginning Sept. 13 at Pleasant Valley Bible Church in West Bethel.

Boys and girls ages three through grade two will meet after school from 3:15-4:30 p.m. (students take bus -9 from school).

Boys and girls in grades three through six meet from 6:30-8:30 p.m. (Meet at the bus garage at 6:00 p.m. if a ride is needed).

This year the program will offer a junior varsity program for boys and girls in grades seven and eight. This group will meet Sunday nights, 6:30-8:30 p.m., beginning Sept. 22. Junior varsity players will be involved in community service, Super Bowl games and lots of other activities.

AFTER FIVE CLUB

The ladies of the Western Maine After 5 Club will be holding their second annual country fair on Sept. 17 at Goldstreet Restaurant. Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m.

Our "Fair" offers tables of saleable items, including crafts, plants, homemade foods, pickles and jams, and a white elephant table. The proceeds of the fair will be donated to Stonecraft Ministries to be used toward Christmas gifts for Village Missionaries.

Donations of sale items will be appreciated. Please bring your donations priced to sell.

Rudy and Joanne Royer will be back by popular demand, to play "fiddle" during our fair segment. Don and Bev Chase will be our vocalist for the evening.

Lois Ladner, a single woman and a

Jackson-Silver Auxiliary

After a summer without meetings, Jackson-Silver Unit had much planning and business to transact when they met on Sept. 5 for their first regular meeting of the new season.

Committee chairmen appointees so far by president Kathleen McAllister are: Americanism, Mary Lyon; Children and Youth, Kathy Jean Bartlett; Community Service, Leah Deegan; Girls State, Noreen Russo; Membership, Ruth Mason; Music, Mary Lyon; Poppy, Vera Cross; Public Relations, Olive Risko; Special Olympics, Grace Smith; Veterans Affairs and Bethel, Sylvia Dunham.

The American Legion family has had much sadness during the past summer. Post-68 has coped with the deaths of several members, two of whom had been very active in Post work—Charles Mason in June and Alanson Cummings in July.

Unit members have tried to be supportive of the respective widows, Ruth and Fannie. In this past month, also, two past department commanders, Robert McFarland and Anthony Rumo have left us.

On Aug. 26, five members of the Unit-68 attended services for past department president, Myra Stevens, of Norway and two went to the funeral the next morning in Bolsters Mills. Mrs. Stevens was a very early Girls State director and served as the State Auxiliary president in 1954-55. She had visited Jackson-Silver Unit many times. A donation was voted in her memory to programs at the Togus V.A. Hospital to be used for canteen books for patients, Beano prizes, or as most needed.

Auxiliary members also wish to express their sympathy to Post member Nancy Mercer, on the recent loss of her mother.

Other donations were voted for various community service endeavors. Among these were $50 to the Bethel Area Health Center; $100 to Tri-Town Volunteer Ambulance Service and $50 to Public Cable Television Channel 4. When it was learned that an injury had prevented a Post member from working and that there was additional illness in the family, $100 was voted for their assistance.

It was announced that 1992 paid up membership has now reached 56, which is 74.67 percent of the 1991 membership. Also, the Unit press book, which took first place at the State Convention in June, in National judging, was awarded second place for the Eastern Division. This consists of the 11 northeastern states and the District of Columbia. Thanks go to the newspapers which have printed the Unit's news.

Post member Frank York, who has been hospitalized for a long time, is now said to be making some progress in his recovery from lung surgery and complications which he has suffered. Grace Smith reported that her husband, Warren, had been admitted to day to Androscoggin Valley Hospital in Berlin, N.H., but is not expected to remain there for very long.

Members should make special note of the meetings and other events planned for this fall. Sept. 8 is the date of the District outing, starting at noon at the Oxford Post Home and County Council meets on Sept. 17 at 7:30 p.m. hosted by the Rumford Post and Unit.

Jackson-Silver Unit is looking forward to their next meeting on Sept. 19 when the Post has volunteered to prepare and serve a 6:30 supper prior to the meeting.

It is expected that the Oct. 3 meeting will feature music under the direction of Mary Lyon.

A fundraiser is scheduled for Oct. 13 at 1:30 p.m. This will be a card and table game party at a cost of $2 per player. Pie and coffee will be served prior to the beginning of play. There will be door prizes awarded throughout the afternoon. Members are asked to donate new items to be used as prizes or to solicit some from local businesses. Also, get friends or neighbors interested in making up a table of players.

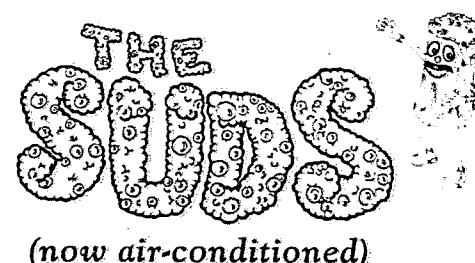

Oct. 17 will be a very special meeting. This is a combined Membership and Girls and Boys State supper. Several Department and District dignitaries will be invited, but most important guests will be those local young people who were delegates to Girls and Boys State sessions this past summer and who will report on their experiences.

Announcements of other special plans will appear in these pages regularly.

News from the Bethel Area

Health Center

The fall schedule of classes and programs is starting to take shape.

The Health Center is again coordinating with SAD #44 to offer circuit training classes. A beginner course will be offered from 8:15-9:15 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays. An advanced course will be offered on the same days from 6:30-7:30 p.m. The courses will start on Sept. 17 and run for six weeks. Another six-week session of both classes will begin on Nov. 5 at the same times.

Our resident exercise physiologist, Joel Hinshaw, will teach a six-session, "Active Series" covering such topics as cardiovascular health, flexibility and stretching, low back, getting into shape for skiing and winter activities. This course will run every other Tuesday starting on Sept. 17 from 7:30-8:30 p.m. Individuals can register for particular classes or for the whole course.

A Women's Health Seminar focusing on surgical and natural menopause will also be presented at the Bethel Area Health Center in conjunction with SAD #44 Adult Education. The cost will be $4 with preregistration through the Adult Education office at 824-2780. A more detailed description of the seminar will be forthcoming in the next few weeks.

Childbirth Education will again be offered this fall. Kathy Sutton will be teaching the six-week course here at the Health Center beginning Oct. 2 and running Wednesday evenings from 6:30-8:30 p.m. The course costs $30 per couple. Please preregister through the Health Center at 824-2150.

The fall hours of the exercise room are as follows: Monday, Wednesday, Friday, 5-9 p.m.; Tuesday, Thursday, 6-7:30 a.m.; Tuesday, 8-4 p.m.; Saturday, 8-12 noon and Wednesdays and Fridays with permission.

The exercise room is used for all community education programs and meetings at the Health Center so the space is in demand. The next official orientation to become a member is Sept. 18 from 5-6:30 p.m. Again, don't hesitate to call if you would like to become a member sooner. We will try to accommodate you.

Lastly, on Monday evening, Sept. 9, the Safer Families Program is sponsoring a Community Awareness Forum on domestic violence. The community is invited. For more information please call the Health Center.

Rotary Club Notes

Stuart Crocker, one of Rotary's newest members was our speaker at the Tuesday, Sept. 3, meeting. He spoke a little about his past life in the Pacific Northwest, mostly operating an architectural firm in Prince Rupert, British Columbia. It's great to have Stuart as a member of the club—he will be an asset.

George Larson gave Rotary information and indicated that each Rotarian can have a role in preventing further pollution to our waterways and that it would be a great challenge for Rotary to become involved in the clean up of our rivers locally.

Guests this morning included Ira Pitcher, Lewiston/Auburn, and Gil Robinson and Bill Lowther, summer regulars.

RETIRED TEACHERS TO MEET

The Oxford County Retired Teachers will meet at the South Paris Universalist Church Saturday, Sept. 21. The social period starts at 10:30 a.m., the business meeting at 11:15. The afternoon program will be the History of Logging, presented by Charles Johnson. The scholarship fund raiser will be a book sale.

FIR THE RECORD—The Small Woodland Owner's Association of Maine has listed the Douglas fir in front of the Bethel Inn as the largest of its species in the state. The championship tree measures seven-feet, ten-inches in circumference and is 63 feet tall. It was nominated by Tim Basham of Augusta. In the eyes of some people, of course, the record is somewhat qualified by the fact that the Douglas fir is not native to Maine, but is a species "from away."

NOVA OFFERS DRIVING COURSE

Northern Oxford Vocational Area (NOVA) is offering a Class B/school bus driving course beginning Monday, Sept. 9.

Classroom instruction will be offered in the evenings beginning at 6:30 p.m., and driving instruction will also be in the evenings and on weekends.

Upon satisfactory completion of the course, the students will take their Class B and/or school bus driving test. Space is still available. Anyone interested should call NOVA Adult Education Office at 364-2012 or the instructor, Eddy Naples at 369-0150.

Girl Scout News

Girl Scout registration will be held on Thursday, Sept. 19, from 2:30-5 p.m. at Bethel United Methodist Church. Girls ages six to 18, accompanied by a parent, should take this opportunity to register for this year of scouting. The fee is $4.

Adult volunteers are needed to be leaders, assistant leaders and troop committee members. Information on this aspect of Girl Scouting will be available at this time.

Cadet Scout Troop #712 will hold the first fall meeting on Sept. 20 at 2:30 at Telstar Regional High School, and everyone is asked to meet Ann at the front office.

Task force notes:

At its meeting Sunday night, the Bethel Area Task Force made the following appointments: co-chairpersons—Nancy Davis and Gwyneth Bohr, NTL liaison person—Marybeth Bayerlein, keeper of records—Tom McGinness, and treasurer—John Bayerlein.

The next meeting of the task force will be Sunday, Sept. 22 at 7 p.m. at the Bingham House.

PINE TREE QUILTERS

The Pine Tree Quilters Guild will meet on Saturday, Sept. 21 at 9:30 a.m. in the theatre of the Veterans' Center in Togus. The public is invited to attend. Admission is free.

Marianne Pons and Liz Porter, nationally known quilters from Iowa, will present slides, discuss and show some of their quilted work-quilts as well as clothing. As a team and as individuals the two have an enviable record of quilting, writing and teaching accomplishments.

Those attending should bring a bag lunch and beverage, as none will be provided.

Pine Tree Quilters Guild, Inc., is a non-profit organization that was established in 1978. It now has over 1,200 members in 55 chapters statewide.

Community Conference focus group facilitators

- Underemployed—Cathy Newell.
- Crafters and artisans—Melody Bonnama.
- Restaurateurs—Sherry Thurston.
- Innkeepers—Melinda Remington and Steve Wight.
- Retailers—Robin Zinchuk.
- Educators—Cathy Newell and Jonathan Goldberg.
- Environmental—Bonnie Pooley and Jonathan Goldberg.

Jackson-Silver Post #68

Members of the Jackson-Silver Post #68, American Legion met at their Legion Hall on the Gore Road Locke Mills, for their first meeting since spring.

The meeting was called to order by the Post Commander Brian Strickland, followed by prayer led by Post Chaplain Rodney Hanscom and the reciting of the American Legion Preamble. There was the usual roll call of officers and reports of the financial officer and post adjutant of last meeting. Both were accepted.

The first order of business was the vote to purchase a cash register to be used for financial transactions at Bingo as well as at other functions of the Post where finances are involved. Jim Robichaud of Dixfield Post #100 came and demonstrated the machine and will come to train those who will be using the machine.

The next item under new business was to vote for an Appreciation Supper to be given to the Auxiliary for all the hard work they have put in over the past months. The supper will be held before the next meeting, Sept. 19 at 6:30 p.m. The menu suggested was an old fashioned boiled dinner and ginger bread with whipped cream. Members of both the Post and Auxiliary are invited to attend. Members of the Post will serve the meal.

Discussion was given to the matter of some of the members of the Post joining members of the Franklin Grange of Bryant Pond for a Patriotic Observance on Nov. 4. It was requested that part of the past Memorial Day Observance including the Acoustic on "The Flag" and the demonstration of the ceremonial folding of the flag with the given meanings of each of the twelve folds of the flag.

Two new members from the Gulf War were voted into membership. They were, Richard A. Littlefield, a former resident now living in Brewer, and Dean A. Benson of South Woodstock.

Under correspondence an acknowledgement of a gift from the Home of Little Wanderers was read. Other appeals for more donations were submitted to the Finance Committee of the Post for further consideration.

It was voted to send a letter of appreciation to each member of the Firing Squad for the fine performance throughout the past spring and summer at funerals as well as at other occasions.

A vote was taken to purchase a new lock for the office door.

There was the draping of the charter for our recently departed comrad, Gardner Smith.

The project of sealing the new hot topping of the yard was considered. As many members as possible are invited to come and help in this project. The first group will gather for work at 9 a.m., Sept. 22. Those coming should avail themselves of one or the combination of "squeegee and brush" used for this type of work. For more information members may call Post Commander Brian Strickland in Bethel.

A vote was taken to purchase a new lock for the office door.

There was the draping of the charter for our recently departed comrad, Gardner Smith.

The project of sealing the new hot topping of the yard was considered. As many members as possible are invited to come and help in this project. The first group will gather for work at 9 a.m., Sept. 22. Those coming should avail themselves of one or the combination of "squeegee and brush" used for this type of work. For more information members may call Post Commander Brian Strickland in Bethel.

THOUGHTS FROM THE Pastor's Study

The Bethel Area Clergy Association, with the help of pastors of surrounding churches, brings you these meditations. Not based on any set theme, they will be individual for each pastor. It is hoped you will find in these words, comfort and help for your daily life.

Jesus Christ said: "I am the door. If anyone enters by Me, he will be saved and will go in and out and find pasture. The thief does not come except to steal, and to kill, and to destroy. I have come that they may have life, and that they may have it more abundantly" (John 10:9,10).

This verse has been cherished by Christians over the centuries because it expresses a truth which brings both comfort and assurance to all who know the Lord Jesus Christ as Savior. The truth is that Jesus Christ did not come to start a religion. Jesus did not come to be another addition to the spectrum of great prophets and teachers. Neither did he come simply to turn "bad people" into "good people". Jesus Christ came for one reason. He came to give spiritual life to the human race which is spiritually dead!

What is the basis for saying that people are spiritually dead? The sin nature has been passed on from generation to generation ever since the Creation and Fall of man. The result of this sin nature is that most beautiful little babies will eventually sin. In fact the Bible states very clearly that we are all sinners and fall short of the glory of God. We all miss the mark... those who are in deep bondage to sin, as well as those who are "good, moral, respectable human beings." "There is none righteous, no one not" (Romans 3:10).

What is the tragic consequence of sin? Sin separates us from God (Isaiah 59:2). This separation will be eternal and final. The reason for this separation is that God is a Holy God. Scripture says the following about the LORD: "You are of purer eyes than to behold evil" (Habakkuk 1:13). God's eyes are too pure to behold sin. Therefore if you have ever sinned you will not be allowed into His Presence. "The wages of sin is death" (Romans 6:23).

If you are hoping to gain acceptance by God by the good things you do, such as giving to the needy and being very involved in church activities, you must keep in mind that though these are admirable, they cannot be the basis for salvation. "For by grace are you saved through faith, and that not of yourselves, it is the gift of God, not of works, lest anyone should boast" (Ephesians 2:8,9).

Being a Christian simply means that you have received the forgiveness of God found in the sacrificial death of Jesus Christ died on the Cross to pay for your sins. He who was the Lamb of God shed His blood and died in your place, so that you might have life in Him. You become a Christian, when you place your full trust in Jesus Christ and His atoning death for your salvation.

The Lord Jesus Christ said: Most assuredly, I say to you, he who hears My word and believes in Him who sent Me has everlasting life, and shall not come into judgement, but has passed from death into life" (John 5:24).

CARD OF THANKS

To our many friends who came to our 50th party to help us celebrate, we sincerely thank you.

To our kids, our daughters-in-law, sons-in-law and grand kids, you made the day so special and we love you all for your efforts.

Thank you all for the cards, gifts, money and the memories.

We will keep such happy thoughts and feelings for a long time.

Rodney and Gerry Howe
